GRANITEVILLE

Moretown Won Over Graniteville A. C. in Close Game Saturday.

At Moretown Saturday afternoon one of the closest and most interesting games of the season ended in a 3 to 2 victory for Moretown over the Graniteville A. C., an extra inning being necessary to decide the hard-fought contest.

The Moretown team was, with two or three exceptions, identical with the champion Montpelier seminary team of this year, while several old Goddard and Spaulding men were seen in the line-up of the fast Graniteville aggregation.

Both twirlers pitched excellently. Polli keeping the hits well scattered and Granal holding the opposing batsmen safely except in one inning. Polli and Granal registered 13 and 12 strikeouts, respectively.

In the first inning Ward singled and scored on successive hits by Grandfield and Tribbitt. Moretown added two more in the third and fifth.

In the sixth, two bases on balls, coupled with hits by Morrison, Crowley and King, gave Graniteville four runs. Moretown tied the score in the last of the ninth, when Flynn got a life on a passed third strike and scored on Duba's hit. After Graniteville had been retired in the 10th, Grandfield doubled and Granal drove in the winning run with a single over second. The score:

Graniteville A. C.
Sullivan, rf	5	0	0	1	0
Morrison, c	5	1	1	4	0
Beatty, as	4	1	0	0	1
Polli, p	4	1	0	4	0

*One out when winning run was scored. Moretown 18, Graniteville 15. Summary: Two-base hit, Grandfield; sacrifice hit, Ward; stolen bases, Grandfield 2, Duba, Maiden, McKenzie 2, Morrison, Graham, Belanger; bases on balls, off Granal 2, off Polli; struck out by Granal 12, by Polli 13.

An Appeal. Where are all the old-time sports that used to support the athletic teams of Graniteville as such a whole-hearted manner? Why do they not come out and see what they have for a baseball team in Graniteville? Come out and give the boys a little encouragement.

You will find the ball team made up of the cleanest young men. There has not been one cent paid out to get players. Every man on the team is in the game just for the love of the sport.

Graniteville played one of the best teams in this section of Vermont last Saturday, when they played the Moretown A. C., a team composed almost wholly of players from Montpelier seminary, and lost the game in the tenth inning by the score of 5 to 4.

So, you old-time fans, let us see you at the next game. Bring along your friends and relations. Support your team and show that you believe in clean sport played clean. If you do not think that the G. A. C. is deserving of your support, the management will refund your admission. Come to all the rest of the games. If you can't come, send along your admission.

Perley Smith returned Saturday night from Barton, where he was called by the serious illness of his father. Misses Cora, Anna and Beatrice Duquette, who are employed in North Montpelier, spent the week end at their home.

W. D. McDonald, Orlando McDonald and Miss Mary McDonald of Springfield, Mass., visited relatives here Saturday. Leslie and Norman McLeod, who have been employed by the E. L. Smith company for several months, have returned to their home in Scotland, P. Q.

Mrs. Rogers and Miss Bessie Breinan of Barre are guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ryan.

The annual picnic of the Presbyterian church Sunday school will be held on Wednesday, July 16, at Benjamin falls, where all are cordially invited to join with them in their day's outing. Trucks will leave Miles' store between 9:30 and 10:30 a. m. In case of rain, the picnic will be held Thursday.

MAKING GOOD WITH ONE ARM.

Young Italian in American Army Takes Up Mechanical Drafting.

That "men may rise on stepping stones of their dead selves to higher things" is proved by the case of a young Italian boy who was wounded in the battle of Chateau Thierry.

Frank was a sergeant in the American army, and he was as proud of his position as any general (and after all, they were both doing the same thing, serving their country). He had the same love for America that every man has who realizes her opportunities and her freedom, but perhaps he had a keener appreciation of the value of these things, because he had come over here to gain them.

During some of the hottest fire of Chateau Thierry he was hit by a piece of shell in the arm, and was carried to the base hospital, fully conscious, and with a pretty good notion that he was coming out of his situation with one arm.

"Somewhere in France," he guessed right too. With all the wonderful surgery of the war, there are times when nothing can save a shattered arm, and this was one of them.

Those are long days in the hospitals. You get to the place where you are through sleeping and lying quiet for awhile and you begin to want something to do, and something to read even if it's only an advertisement, or a clipping from some newspaper that talks English. During one of those hours for entertainment, Frank ran across a number of little leaflets, pink, white and blue setting forth a certain bit of news that to a man who knew his old job was buried as far as he was concerned, sounded like an invitation to heaven.

These were the leaflets of the federal board for vocational education, getting it across to the men who were wounded in France, that the United States was offering to re-educate them for a new work, and that there was a new work which they could do.

These leaflets were really the tickets to future success. Frank got in touch with the board as soon as he could, and all during his convalescence, his trip across the transport, and his journey home, there wasn't a day when one of those leaflets didn't come out for an assurance of his good fortune.

The vocational adviser at one of the district offices looked up one morning to see the most eager young Italian that it had been his good luck to meet. There wasn't much time to wonder what he wanted.

"I want to learn to work. What can a man with an arm gone do?" Then the adviser began to tell him, and when the adviser finished saying what a man with an arm gone can do, the questioner always wants to know what he can't, and that's usually nothing that he has a lot to.

Frank told about his past experience as a stone mason, and the federal board using this dead job as a foundation, began his training for higher things. He's taking a course in mechanical drafting now at a big college of mechanic arts. The instructors say he has a marvelous aptitude for the work, and is doing fine, and showing lots of promise. What's the secret, someone wanted to know, of a seventh grade student making a big success of a college course? We referred the question to Frank. He smiled a Mona Lisa smile and said, "It's just a combination of Italian patience and American grit."

Her Comeback. "You make me tired," he exclaimed as he saw his wife fondling a pet dog. "I can't understand how a woman can love a brute."

"It is strange," she retorted, "but it's a case of 'with all your faults, I suppose, dear.'—Boston Transcript.
